OLD IS NEW

The Siren Served in a tall glass, built w` Ink Gin, Cointreau, lemon juice & sugar syrup topped w` soda. A spin on a classic the 'Tom Collins'. This version is an homage to Joan Collins, who played 'The Siren', in the 1960's Batman TV series. Strong and classy just like Joan	18
Golden Mojito Havana Club 3 Anos. Lime segments muddled w` sugar and mint served in a tall glass & topped w` soda	16
Throw Mama From The Train Makers Mark, Peach Liqueur, lemon juice & sugar syrup served in a tall glass topped with soda. A new old fashioned. A drink Mama would have enjoyed if she hadn't been thrown from the train!	18
Winifred Atwell Captain Morgans, Two Mates alcoholic ginger & lime kombucha & pineapple juice built in a tall glass. Winifred Atwell was an accomplished ragtime pianist. Born in Trinidad in the Caribbean in 1910, she went onto establishing herself as a worldwide name for herself selling over 20 million records. The first black woman to have a number one hit in the UK singles chart, and still the only female instrumentalist to do so! The later years of her life she resided in Australia and became an advocate against racism for indigenous Australians. She now rests eternally at South Gundurimba Cemetery outside Lismore. Here's to you Winifred!	18
